MRS. WILSON IS AN ARTIST

Wife of the Democratic Nominee Possesses Talent.

See Girl, N. J., July 3.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the Democratic presidential nominee, is an artist of considerable ability, and a number of her paintings adorn the walls of the "little white house" here. A number of years ago she expected to make a profession of her painting. It was she who was responsible for the governor spending the summers at Old Lyme, Conn., where there is a large artist colony, and the governor enjoyed it, too, "for," said Mrs. Wilson today, "the change from the academy to the artistic atmosphere proved enjoyable as well as beneficial."

Mrs. Wilson's three daughters are all talented. They resemble their father closely in looks. Margaret, the oldest, has a fine soprano voice and often joins her father after dinner in singing a duet. Jessie, the second daughter, is a settlement worker in Philadelphia. Eleanor, the youngest, inherits her mother's bent for painting and is now studying art at a New York school.

For a time last night congratulatory telegrams poured in at the rate of 300 an hour. William J. Bryan did not intrust his congratulations to the wire, but called up on the telephone. He told the governor he was happy, and wished him the victory he predicted would come in November. This message came from Champ Clark:

"Just leaving for Washington. I congratulate you upon your hard-earned victory and will do all I can to elect you."

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, who may be the next first lady of the land, says she never thought of living in the White House until a reporter suggested the possibility to her last night. "I have been so wrapped up in Mr. Wilson's prospects," she said, "that I have thought of little else. I don't know how I would like it."

During the week of balloting at Baltimore Mrs. Wilson and her daughters have kept the tally of every roll call. Last Friday night, she said, when Governor Wilson instructed his managers to release the Wilson delegates, she "pretended" she was happy that it was all over.

"I said to Mr. Wilson that we would have a chance now to go to Rydal," she declared. "Rydal is a beautiful village in England. We went there four years ago and spent several months at the cottage of a grandson of the poet Wordsworth. You know, Wordsworth wrote of Rydal in several of his poems."

"We were captivated by the beauty. When we suggested that we would soon go there again, Mr. Wilson seemed quite happy. But it has happened differently after all. When Mr. Wilson heard from Baltimore that he was nominated I was at his side. He put down the telephone receiver and turned to me. 'We won't go to Rydal,' he said. 'And I knew then that he had won.'"

CONGRATULATIONS FOR GOV. WILSON

Washington, July 2.—All the Democratic senators on the floor, upon receipt of the news of Woodrow Wilson's nomination, joined in a congratulatory message to him. The message read:

"We congratulate you and the country upon your nomination. We are confident of your overwhelming victory."

STEWART SENTENCED FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.
Cheyenne, Wyo., July 3.—William Stewart, Ninth U. S. cavalry, was sentenced to 25 years in the state penitentiary yesterday for the murder of William A. Rucker, a fellow soldier, two months ago.

FIGHTERS ARE QUIET

Heavyweights A wait Gong to Battle for the Championship

East Las Vegas, N. M., July 3.—A few more fight enthusiasts were added last night and today to those already gathered here to see the Johnson-Flynn battle tomorrow, but the main body of spectators will not arrive until tonight when several special trains are due. In anticipation of the rush of hungry travelers later in the day, hotel people were putting their emergency lunch counters into commission this morning and piles of cokes were on display in the shed-like structures.

The fight fans found little to amuse them today. It was extremely quiet at the fighters' camps. Both men did a little light work to keep in trim and devoted the rest of their time to assuring their friends that they were supremely confident of victory. The camps were on display all day and the usual line of curious onlookers lined the fences whenever one of the principals showed himself.

Johnson 2 to 1 Favorite.
There has been little change in the betting, lots of Johnson to win money at 2 to 1 being offered with no takers to speak of. The board at the betting headquarters shows few recorded wagers. The Flynn supporters make an offer of $300 to $500 and do not appear anxious to get their money down at less than 3 to 1 odds. One freak bet, $30 to $50 that Johnson will knock Flynn down before the fourth round is recorded and immediately below it comes the legend, "$50 to $40 he does not."

As a commentary on these bets, the following explanation is written on the board:

"A man on his knees is considered down and if struck, wins the fight."

As to the round betting, the eleventh appears to be favored for the termination of the fight, probably because the eleventh round of the last Johnson-Flynn bout proved to be the fireman's undoing. Most of the round bettors, however, are down on the fourteenth to seventeenth, with a scattering fire from the seventh to the twenty-fifth.

Yakum and Unholz.
As an appetizer to the big show, tomorrow, Stanley Yakum, of Dallas, and "Boer" Unholz, of Denver, who fall somewhere near the lightweight class, will try out Promoter Curley's canvas-walled arena tonight. It is a scheduled 20-round bout and probably will draw an unusually select audience as there are a good number of sporting notables waiting for the big fight who will not overlook a chance to watch the little men work.

Jack to Weigh 212 Pounds.
It is Johnson's announced plan to enter the ring tomorrow weighing 212 pounds. The champion's trainers in announcing his weight yesterday at 214 explained that he could go into the ring at 210 if necessary without weakening himself. They do not consider it necessary, however, to take off the extra two pounds.

Flynn weighs 190.
Flynn expects to fight at about 190 pounds. He has said for a week or so that he would weigh from 185 to 193 and would try for the happy medium. Despite the one-sided look of his boxing board, Flynn appears confident that he can surprise the champion beyond measure tomorrow on his improved form since they last met. He makes no particular prediction as to the round in which he expects the fight to end, contenting himself with the declaration:

"I am going to win; get down on that."

AMERICANS SHOOT BEST IN OLYMPIAD

Stockholm, July 3.—The individual competition in the clay bird shooting events in the Olympic games was continued today when the second stage was concluded. The best aggregates scored in the first and second rounds were made by the Americans, A. F. Gleason, Boston A. A., and J. R. Graham, Chicago A. A., with 47 out of a possible 50 birds. The German contestants, Golden, with 44 hits, was third. The third stage will be shot tomorrow.

Sweden was victorious in today's team competition for dual shooting at a distance of 30 meters. The Swedish team of four men made an aggregate of 1,143 points out of a possible 1,200, each man firing 200 shots. Russia and Great Britain were placed second and third, respectively, while the United States has to be satisfied with fourth place, having obtained an aggregate of only 1,087.

The best individual score in the competition, however, was registered by the American, A. P. Lac, who made 292 points.

ABDUCTION SUSPECTED

Pitcher McQuillan Taken to Station—
"Caught Stealing"

Chicago, July 3.—When Earl McQuillan, a pitcher recently "farmed" by the St. Louis Americans to the Des Moines team, stepped from a train with his fiancée, Miss Beatrice Williams, today, a policeman detained him. It was suspected McQuillan was trying to abduct the girl, who looks younger than she really is, 19 years of age.

"I'm McQuillan, the pitcher," explained the young man. "All right, McQuillan," answered the officer, "this probably will go on the record books as 'caught stealing'." "We eloped," said the smiling girl. "A friend helped me to get my clothes out of our house. Mother missed me and hurried to the depot just in time to see our train pull out."

McQuillan left the police station declaring he would obtain a marriage license, be wed and proceed to Des Moines.

MEXICANS IN BATTLE

Federals Attack Rebels,
Driving Them from Position

At General Huerta's Federal Headquarters, Bachimba, Mexico, July 3.—After several days' delay, during which the troops by flank movements were reaching designated positions, General Huerta, the federal commander, gave the word at 5 o'clock this morning to begin the attack on the rebel army gathered near Bachimba under General Orozco. With a few shells the government artillery had dislodged the rebels from one important position during the night.

The troops are being moved cautiously to avoid rebel mines which have been discovered and exploded. Explanation of the reported catastrophe of two days ago, when a big explosion was heard in the rebel camp, was made today by a report to headquarters. A rebel mine destroyed a big water tank, seriously injuring a civilian and slightly wounding another.

Many mines were discovered nearby and the detonation was caused by their explosion after being removed by the government engineers.

Rebels Prepare to Attack.

At the Rebel Front, Bachimba, Mexico, July 3.—Impatient at the dilatory tactics of the federals who for three days have been marching their troops to within twenty miles of Bachimba and then turning them back, the rebel army directed by General Orozco today prepared for a federal attack.

Troops at Colonia Morelos and Frontleras, south of here, are taking positions on the west banks of the Yaqui river. Eleven wagon loads of ammunition and provisions left for Colonia Morelos. Information has been received by General San Jines that the rebels are advancing in three columns from Chihuahua and have already passed Casas Grandes, Pearson and Madera on the Mexican Northwestern railroad.

Federal officials here believe Orozco will abandon Bachimba and Chihuahua and will move his entire force into eastern Sonora.

CLUB HOLDS WILSON RATIFICATION MEETING

Auburn, N. Y., July 2.—The Cayuga County Wilson club last night held the first ratification meeting of the national campaign. Thomas Mott Osborne, president of the New York Democratic league, addressed the meeting which was preceded by a parade.

"Under Woodrow Wilson we have inspiration to wage a campaign like that of 1888 or 1892. Under him Democracy will rule not four years but twenty years. I want to say, however, that the Democratic party owes a tremendous debt to William J. Bryan. His fight in Baltimore for courage and shrewd political action is the finest thing we have ever seen in American politics. He was called a mischief maker but he made mischief only for those who were guiding the party to destruction."

LOST SCHOOL TEACHERS HAVE BEEN FOUND

Honolulu, July 3.—Two companies of United States troops and a large corps of volunteer teachers succeeded last night in finding five school teachers who strayed from the trails in the Koolau mountains last Saturday.

Two of the party, Mrs. Mary Stenberg, formerly of Spokane, and G. W. Shaw, formerly of Denver, were too exhausted by exposure and hunger to be brought to the city at once and are being treated by the army hospital corps in the mountains. The others, Miss Ruth Henry of Amherst, Mass., J. P. Knowlton of Denver, and H. W. Robinson of Dartmouth, N. H., did not suffer except from hunger.

BUBONIC PLAGUE IN HAVANA.

Havana, July 3.—There were reports last night of the appearance of two cases of bubonic plague in Havana. The quarantine officials positively deny this, but are taking all precautions, including the fumigation of many warehouses on the harbor front.

LITTLE MEN ARE READY

Champion Wolgast and Challenger Express
Confidence

Los Angeles, July 3.—With each man expressing his confidence in victory in the fight scheduled for tomorrow at Vernon, Ad. Wolgast, champion lightweight pugilist of the world, and Joe Rivers, the challenger, passed a quiet day.

The two fighters said they had finished their heavy training and were only exercising enough to keep themselves in good condition for their bout tomorrow.

Wolgast was reticent about his line of combat, making the statement that "Washington didn't publish his plans when he crossed the Delaware and that he did not intend to bulletin his business."

He added that he gave Rivers credit for being "a clever youngster," but predicted the challenger would fall early in the fight.

Rivers said: "Wolgast might run into a surprise party that would make his heart sore that he ever heard the name of Rivers." He declared he would give the spectators the "best there was in him," regardless of anything else which might come up in the contest.

Many San Francisco sporting men, including Jack Welch, of San Francisco, who will referee the bout, are on the ground.

WILSON IS THANKFUL

Nominee Greatly Pleased by Devotion
of His Friends

See Girl, N. J., July 3.—"I haven't time to think of all these things," Governor Woodrow Wilson came out of the "little white house," sat in an easy chair on his porch, crossed his legs, took off his glasses and thus replied today to a bombardment of questions hurled at him by a group of reporters. He was looking rather careworn and tired.

"I don't know whether I shall appoint Mr. McCombs my campaign manager or suggest him for the chairmanship of the national committee," he said.

he said. "I haven't decided whether I shall resign as governor of New Jersey; I haven't had time to read the platform; I have made no campaign plans—in fact, I have devoted all my time to morning callers and to my correspondence."

"These and other details I shall take up in due time with my friends. Poor fellows, they will have to get some rest."

Expressed Thanks

"To all thoughtful and generous friends who have sent me messages of congratulation I wish to express my hearty thanks. I shall not be able to answer them individually, I am afraid, they are so delightfully numerous. I hope this inadequate acknowledgment will fall under their eyes. These messages of personal confidence help immeasurably to make public service seem worth while."

"Do you care to comment on the convention's work?" was asked.

"I can only say," he replied, "that I am much gratified by its harmonious ending. As to the work of my supporters, I never saw anything like it for absolute devotion to what they wanted. They were many of them warm friends."

Whatever else the governor does, he will continue to visit Trenton Thursday morning, the custom set, when the summer mansion was first built, of keeping "governor's day" at the state capital. His friends are positive he will not resign until after the first of next year, as under the New Jersey law the president of the senate automatically takes the governor's seat on the governor's resignation.

The present president of the senate is a Republican.

"The governor would rather wait until a Democrat is elected president of the senate," said one of the governor's friends, "and then turn the office over to him rather than to a Republican, although he has a very high personal regard for the present leader. If this be true, on the third Monday in January, 1914."

Among the governor's accomplishments, he boasts a mastery of shorthand. He displayed his knowledge of this by making notes for dictation. As he wrote, leaning his head on the arm of his easy chair, the camera squad snapped him again and again and a moving picture man recorded his movement.

HOMING BIRDS TO BEAR FIGHT NEWS

Chicago, July 3.—Eighteen homing pigeons, representing as many Chicago clubs, have been shipped to Jack Curley at Las Vegas for liberation from the arena immediately preceding the Johnson-Flynn championship fight tomorrow.

The birds were survivors of a series of races which ended last Sunday in a flight from Emporia, Kan. Hope is entertained that the record of five days established last year by Charlie Bells in a flight from Las Vegas will be broken.

TAFT HAS LOST OUT

Republicans of South
Dakota Name Roosevelt
Electors

Huron, S. D., July 3.—Absolutely refusing by a vote of 2 to 1 to endorse President Taft or the action of the Republican national convention held recently in Chicago, the Republican state convention of South Dakota here last night adopted a platform which makes no mention of Taft or national issues.

The convention elected five presidential electors pledged to Theodore Roosevelt and placed Roosevelt's name at the head of the Republican ticket.

(This is the first Republican state to repudiate President Taft and place Roosevelt's name at the head of the regular Republican state ticket. It is claimed that a majority of the honestly elected delegates to the Chicago Republican convention were for Roosevelt and the convention that nominated the ex-president consisted of a majority of the elected delegates. Now watch other Republican states do likewise.—Ed.)

KRUEGER IS QUESTIONED

Tells Jury of Franklin's Alleged Attempt to Bribe Him

Los Angeles, July 3.—A. J. Krueger, a salesman in the McNamara case, told the jury in the bribery trial of Clarence S. Darrow today of the alleged attempt of Bert H. Franklin to bribe him.

Krueger testified that before Franklin approached him on the day he was drawn as a juror in the trial of J. B. McNamara he was visited by Frank Fowler, a Los Angeles attorney. Fowler, according to the witness, asked him to "stick" on the McNamara jury. "He picked up four matches from the floor," said Krueger, "and said there would be that much in it for me."

Fowler is employed by a local railway company and was not publicly identified with the McNamara defense. Krueger corroborated the main details of Bert Franklin's test relative to the latter's alleged dealings with the witness.

On cross-examination Krueger said he did not know whether the matches were intended to represent "four bits, four dollars or four thousand dollars."

Franklin testified that Krueger had told him Fowler offered him $4,000. Frank R. Smith, an orange grower, and another McNamara salesman, described by Franklin as one of those he sought to bribe, followed Krueger on the stand.

Offered Smith $3,000.

Smith said Franklin offered him $3,000 and then $4,000 if he would qualify as a juror and vote for the acquittal of J. B. McNamara.

"I told him he didn't have enough money to buy me," said Smith, "that ended the matter."

On cross-examination the witness said he never gave Franklin any reason to believe that he would consent to being bribed.

The defense objected to Smith's testimony on the ground that Franklin's negotiations with Smith had never been reported to Darrow as testified by Franklin himself.

CLARK AND UNDERWOOD GIVEN OVATION IN HOUSE

Washington, July 3.—When Speaker Clark, showing the effect of the strain under which he has labored during the Democratic convention, entered the house today, he was given an ovation that lasted for several minutes.

When Representative Underwood of Alabama appeared, the cheering and applause was resumed. Members pounded their desks and the Southern contingent added to the noise by their shrill "rebel yell."
